Correspondence & Miscellaneous: none

OLD BUSINESS: none

NEW BUSINESS: Ms. Westmark asked what the next steps are for the BAR Town home project. She asked what the next steps are; so, it was discussed again, as it was in public hearing: Mr. Pacheco asked Mr. Stoker to come up again, going from MRB1 to planned multi-family. Tonight was a public hearing after the zoning commission made the recommendation to proceed with the zoning request. Mr. Stoker sent memo Dec 20th, we had 40 days to hold the public meeting, Next step is for a recommendation for a proposal from council, council than has to make a decision, then it will go back to zoning and planning, we then have a 2nd public hearing. Mr. Pacheco will accept an ordinance that accepts or rejects the ordinance pending on what council chooses. Council can make recommendations Things that cannot be changed as they are already set in our zoning laws as they stand now: item 1127.02 : permitted uses for that are, minimum lot size. Height of building ; 1127.06 densities of property, the 17 units proposed fall into the correct density. 1127.07 are things that can be changed, color, landscaping, safety items like fire hydrants, etc. The PUD gives the city more say on the property. As it stands now, the developers could move forward without a PUD but city wants a PUD to give feedback on the site. This zoning phase is just a concept, at this point it is just the zoning change, in phase two we get into the specifics of the property. The tax abatements are not part of this project; it is already allowed in the city for anyone that builds a new home. This will be discussed again at next meeting February 2nd, 2026. LOTS OF DISCUSSION Mr. Stoker discussed more with Ms. Westmark about the things that can be changed, she feels it's too many townhomes in the area and too tall, however both are acceptable in current zoning, she feels her only option is to vote no. Lots of discussion, PUD criteria in 1135.15 must meet all 4 criteria.

Next zoning and planning meeting isn't scheduled until they have something happen, it will be based on what the council does next, there will be proper notice given.
